Please read and respond to the following scenario, which is based on an actual case (Rick Reilly, Sports Illustrated, August 14).

It is the bottom-half last inning of the 9-year-old championship baseball game. The Mets are at-bat trailing the Astros by two runs. The Mets have loaded the bases but have two outs. At bat is Billy, the Mets' leading hitter. Following Billy is Jimmy, who can barely swing the bat because of the medications that he has taken for a serious illness. League rules forbid replacing Jimmy with a pinch hitter.

What should the Astros' coach do?

- a) Walk Billy the leading hitter and pitch to Jimmy.
- b) Pitch to Billy
